

"ROUGHING IT IN THE BUSH."

BY MRS. MOODIE.

"Faithful are the wounds of a friend, but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful."

In bringing out the first Canadian edition of "ROUGHING IT IN THE BUSH," the Publishers need say but little. The work has had an immense sale, both in England and the United States ; yet, until now, our own country, of all others the most interested, has been denied the honor of its publication.

In her characteristically graphic introduction to this edition the venerable authoress paints a glowing picture of "Canada, past and present." Imagine another Rip Van Winkle waking up from a forty years' nap—after reading "Roughing it in the Bush"—carried mid-air from the storm-lashed Atlantic to the golden shores of the Pacific, say in a balloon, reading the Census of 1871, and beholding our young giant empire, like Sampson of old, rending the swaddling bands, the wyths and cords of adolescence ; extending with one hand the olive-branch and with the other the cornucopia to a united people, the freest, happiest, best governed, and most virtuous community, owning the largest domain on this continent ; a people who act out in fact, what elsewhere has been treated as a fiction, that all men "are free and equal ;" would not the ideal Dutchman of Irving, exclaim, "verily, Truth is stranger than Fiction."

In presenting for the first time Mrs. Moodie's greatest work in its own native dress, the Publishers hope they know better than, at this late day, to attempt to praise the productions of a STRICKLAND or a MOODIE, their record in Literature, Civilization, Peace and War, is known and read of all ; but the fact that a great, good man, bearing one of the above names has passed to his reward, may justify in this connection the assertion that a better type of the high-minded, kind and generous hearted, thorough-bred Christian gentleman never trod Canadian soil, than the late lamented Colonel J. W. Dunbar Moodie.
